

6516207891.txt

When you are considering weather or not to allow XM to transmit local weather and traffic. Please consider the following: In the Atlanta area you have two AM stations that broadcast the traffic during rush hour traffic, and more offend than not they dedicate only 30 seconds to this segment. In a town that has experienced tremendous growth, that is only enough time to give you the report of one major intersection, or one major interstate (we have 7 major interstates, and over 100 major intersections). SO how is XM going to limit, or restrict their broadcasts? By allowing XM to broadcast the traffic in the Atlanta Area, it will give what I and other XM listeners have been waiting for (Concise traffic reports that tell the total story when it comes to traffic). If I could ask you for one thing, it would be for you to listen to XM subscribers, and not the special interest groups that are only looking out for the station owners and not their loyal listeners.